MISS O'MARA WINS HALF MILE CROWN

Leads Miss Whitnach by Shade In Woodmere Clab Lagoon.

MISS WAINWRIGHT LOSES

American Girl Beats Miss James, but Collision Causes Disqualification.

Two thirteen-year-old lassies of the New York Women's S. A. swam a virtual dead heat in the junior national A. A. U. £80 yard free style championship for women, decided under the auspices of the Woodmere Country Club at Woodmere, L. I., yesterday afternoon. Miss Doris O'Mara secured the decision by a mere touch from Miss Virginia Whitnach. The time was 14 minutes 43 seconds.

time was 14 minutes 43 seconds.

The title event took place over a fifty-five yard course in the club's salt water lagoon, and four contenders, all representing the W. S. A., reported to start. Miss Frances Cooney and Miss Maud McFarlane completed the field.

Miss. O'Mara set out at a fast clip and it looked for a while as if she would make a run away race of it, for she secured a commanding lead before reaching the 220 yard mark. The other three covered the first furlong practically neck and neck. After the fourth lap, however, Miss McFarlane began to drop back slowly, while Miss O'Mara stopped gaining on the other two, still fighting it out stroke for stroke, and so the positions remained until near the end.

Miss Whitnach Makes Bid.

With only 100 yards to go, Miss Whitnach made her bid. She drew away rapidly from Miss Cooney and closed in on Miss O'Mara. She caught the latter at the last turn. Thed it was a stirring battle throughout the home stretch and only by a quicker thrust for the touch did Miss O'Mara earn the verdict. Miss Cooney was third, eight yards back.

An invitation 220 yard swim between Miss Helen Wainwright of the New York Women's S. A., all around national champion, and Miss Hilda James of England, Europe's greatest girl swimmer, was marred by an unfortunate Misses Callebout, Leach, Porter and Misses Callebout, Leach, Porter and Misses Callebout, Leach, Porter and mer, was marred by an unfortunate occurrence.

Due largely to a stiff cross wind, Miss Walnwright swerved from her lane and forced Miss James over the rope marking the side of the course. There they collede and stopped, only to clash again as they reached the 110 yard turn.

Miss Walnwright eventually finished first in 2:53, but was disqualified. Miss James was awarded the victory in 2:55 1-5. There is no doubt that the two pauses cost the girls eight to tenseconds.

Miss James added to her laurels in a 110 yard seraitch breast stroke race, which she won in 1:44, six yards ahead of Miss Dorothy Wesley, metropolitan title holder, the runner up.

Another O'Mara Triumph.

Alicen O'Mara, 11-year-old sister to the newly crowned champion, captured a 55 yard handicap for juniors from the three second mark in 39 2-5 seconds, and Miss Lillian Stoddard scored in a 110 yard handicap for seniors by virtue of an allowance of three second and an an antual performance in 1:22 4-5.

Miss Alieen Riggin, the little Olympic diving champion, was a double victor. She won a scratch fifty-five yard backstroke swim in 44 2-5 seconds first, then, coupled with Miss Wainwright, romped away with a tandem race at the same maries:

Why the Ricoro Corona is one of the "BIG THREE"

'A AJORITY rules"—so when 70% of New York's Ricoro smokers concentrate on three of the ten sizes, we want to know why.

The Corona, Cabinet, and Invincible sizes are the "BIG THREE" in the big city. Price has nothing to do with it, for Ricoro covers a range of prices. All Ricoros are the same fine Porto Rican tobacco, so this doesn't explain it.

Here is the reason: New York's smokers know that these sizes give the fullest enjoyment of Porto Rican tobacco at its best.

Opinions differ in all things, so you may prefer one of the other sizes. In any case, Ricoro is imported from Porto Rico duty free, so you save the difference.
